

Ah, when to the heart of man
Was it ever less than a treason
To go with the drift of things,
To yield with a grace to reason,
And bow and accept the end Of a love or a season?

from "Reluctance" by Robert Frost

Thank you from the Blue Parlor
A big thank you to all who read and attended Blue Parlor readings this year. The readings at this year's conference were a big success. Thank you to all who helped make that happen. Go forth and write!
