Please come to the screening of the unreleased documentary

Darfur Now: Six Stories. One Hope.

This documentary examines the issues surrounding the genocide occurring in Darfur through the perspectives of six individuals who are working to stop the violence. From Hejewa Adam, a Sudanese woman, to Oscar nominee Don Cheadle, and a recent UCLA graduate Adam Sterling, this documentary shows how people from all walks of life can join together to create change.

May 7th at 7:00 pm
Dana Auditorium, Middlebury College

In addition to the film, there will be a donation table for the New Sudan Education Initiative (NESEI) based in Burlington. Donations are greatly appreciated. There will also be an information table about divestment and an opportunity to join a letter writing campaign.

This event is co-sponsored by Amnesty International, ISO, The Alliance for Civic Engagement, UMOJA, and Stand Up!