

Bread Loaf Writers' Conference 2009

Travel Tips

The Bread Loaf campus is located in Ripton, Vermont, about twenty minutes from Middlebury. The campus is a 2 1/2 hour drive from Montreal, about 4 hours from both Boston and Hartford, 5 hours from New York City, and 6 1/2 hours from Philadelphia.

Driving Directions

- Boston—Approximately 4 hours. For places inside Route 128 (including the airport, the South Shore, and Cape Cod), take 93N to 89N to 107W to 100N to 125W.

Planes

Plan to arrive at the Burlington International Airport (BTV). The Airport is about an hour and ten minutes from campus and is served by American, Jet Blue, Continental, Delta, Northwest, United, and USAirways. (Some Bread Loafers who are flying in from CA or overseas choose to arrive one day early, on Tuesday, and stay in a Burlington hotel overnight. In this case, you would go back to the Burlington Airport on Wednesday, August 12, to meet up with the shared taxi service to the Bread Loaf campus.) To get to the Bread Loaf campus from the airport:

- Take a taxi: The College uses a transportation service called Middlebury Transit. Middlebury Transit uses luxury vans, but the cost is the same as taking a regular taxi. Chances are very good that you will be able to share the ride with other Conference participants, and this is actually encouraged. The acceptance packet mailing—to go out in late June—will include details on how to make a taxi reservation.
- Rent a car: There are a couple of rental places located near the Burlington Airport: Avis (802-864-0411) and Hertz (802-864-7409).

Trains

Plan to arrive in Rutland. (Bread Loaf is about an hour from Rutland.) To get to the Bread Loaf campus from the airport:

- Take a taxi from the depot directly to the Bread Loaf campus. You should call a taxi company in advance: Seven Mountain Taxi, 802-747-9088; All City Transportation, 802-786-9182; or Rutland Taxi, 802-236-3133.

Buses
