

Eve Adler Memorial Fund for Summer Study in Classics/Classical Studies

The fund is intended primarily to support students who wish, during the summer, to study Greek and Latin language, literature, and art, or to participate in archaeological field work at a Classical site. Priority will be given to Classics/Classical Studies majors and minors, but the fund is open to any student with a demonstrated purpose related to the field of Classics/Classical Studies.

The request for support should be accompanied by proof of application to a specific program or programs, or in the case of archaeological field work, by a signed statement from the supervising faculty member. Final decisions about funding are dependent on proof of acceptance to the program you intend to enter; the latter should be forwarded to the chair of Classics as soon as it becomes available. N. B. Awards typically to not exceed $6,000.

Please complete this form and submit it, along with supporting materials, to Pavlos Sfyroeras, Chair, Department of Classics, by Friday, March 8, 2024.

Name:

Major:

Year of Graduation:

- 1. Summer program
- 2. Cost and itemized budget
- 3. Please briefly describe your reasons for choosing this particular course of summer study and how it will help you to meet your goals as a Classics/Classical Studies major (or other).