MIDDLEBURY, VT - ____________________________, daughter/son of ____________________________, was inducted into the Phi Beta Kappa National Honor Society – the oldest academic honor society in the nation. ____________________________ was selected by the faculty of the Middlebury College Phi Beta Kappa chapter, and honored by the chapter’s officers at an induction ceremony held on ________________, on the Middlebury College campus in Vermont.

Seniors are elected by Phi Beta Kappa’s Middlebury chapter twice each year – in August, when the top two percent of the senior class is elected after six semesters of work at Middlebury College, and in May, when an additional top eight percent of the senior class is elected after eight semesters.

Eligibility of Middlebury students for election is determined by grades earned at Middlebury College, the C.V. Starr-Middlebury Schools Abroad, or any of Middlebury College’s four Bread Loaf School of English campuses.
