Position Title: February First Year Counselor (“FebYC”)
Department Name: Office of the Dean of Students

Primary Purpose:

February First Year Counselors (FebYC) at Middlebury College serve as mentors to newly arrived February First-Year students who have been assigned to their Commons. Specifically, they are expected to foster the intellectual and personal development of first-year Feb students and serve as the bridge that connects these first-year Feb students to other support services on campus. FebYCs are expected to forge personal connections with their Febs, be in regular contact with their CRD, and communicate with the Commons team about student issues. FebYCs must have a concrete understanding of the network of available resources on campus and a willingness to channel students to those resources.

Each student staff member must be a solid, positive role model – creating, facilitating, and maintaining a living and learning atmosphere that is conducive for individual student growth, as well as community development, within the residential unit. A proactive approach to working within a residential community is of foremost and critical importance. Building positive, healthy relationships with one’s residents from day one is key to this proactive approach. While it is the responsibility of student staff members to respond to problems as they arise, the staff member must first create an atmosphere of community in which individuals respect each other’s rights, property, and values.

Responsibilities:

Student Contact/Communication
FebYCs main role is to connect with residents. Once new students arrive, FebYCs will:
- Get to know their Feb students
- Be visible and accessible to Feb students
- Make themselves available to residents to assist with questions or concerns
- Lead regular Feb group meetings
- Follow up on resident and community concerns and facilitate conversations as needed
- Meet with residents one-on-one throughout the academic year
- Communicate with residents on behalf of the Commons office and Residential Life
- Inform residents of campus events and announcements
- Share confidential information concerning students only with appropriate college staff

Mentoring
FebYCs serve as mentors to first-year Feb students. Once new students arrive, FebYCs will:
- Support students on both an academic and personal level
- Connect students with academic support resources on campus
- Get to know residents and connect them with activities/groups/clubs on campus
● Support students in the transition to college and joining new communities mid year

Community Building
FebYCs should connect their feb students to the wealth of opportunities offered on campus and within their own commons. Once new students arrive, FebYCs will:

● Strive to develop an inclusive community, which promotes individual responsibility, mutual respect, and protects individual rights of residents
● Make students feel welcome in the community by creating personalized door decorations at the start of their academic year
● Actively support Commons Council, Commons events, and assist as required
● Schedule formal and informal feb group meetings throughout the academic year
● Inform students of events taking place, especially supporting weekend activities
● Develop, with fellow FYCs, a monthly program of events designed to connect new feb students with other first-year students planned around the interests of residents on the hall or as a response to community concerns

Health, Safety, and Community Management
The health, well-being, and safety of students is our primary concern. FebYCs contribute to this work through fostering community and supporting individual students. Once new students arrive, FebYCs will:

● Work together as a team to help support the health and safety of residents and foster a healthy and respectful living environment
● Conduct wellness check-ins with residents as needed
● Participate in commons weekend coverage (may include Thursday/Friday/Saturday nights) and report policy violations in duty log
● Connect residents to appropriate resources in a timely manner
● Utilize the CRD on call, Department of Public Safety, etc. in emergent situations
● Communicate concerns to the Commons team
● Foster students’ accountability in relation to personal health, and safety concerns
● Report facilities issues (including residence hall damage) to Facilities, CRDs, and submit work orders as needed
● Follow emergency procedures in an appropriate and responsible manner
● Conduct fire safety checks
● Conduct room checks

Residential Standards
Throughout the academic year, FebYCs will:

● Conduct themselves in accordance with college policies and behave in a manner that supports the mission and values of the College
● Educate residents about residential and general college policies (e.g. Sober Friend Policy) and refer as needed once new Feb students arrive
● Establish community standards by which all new residents agree to abide ● Communicate and uphold residential standards and expectations regarding cleanliness (e.g., dishes, trash and other obstructions in the hallways, etc.), safety (e.g. avoiding and eliminating fire hazards, obstructions, etc.), noise, and behavior (including illegal drinking, drug use, etc.)

- Enforce noise standards: meet residents to establish and articulate clear expectations regarding noise and noise complaints and resolve immediate problems (including intervention on noisy rooms and/or informal parties), and follow up as necessary
- Establish and communicate residence hall expectations surrounding in-room social gatherings and resolve issues as necessary
- Work with CRD and Commons Team as necessary on specific issues that may arise in the residence hall

Residential Life Training and Staff Development
FebYCs return to campus early for extensive staff training in August. It is important that FebYCs are present for all of training. Additional training sessions may also be offered throughout the year. Throughout the academic year, FebYCs will:

- Participate in on-going staff training and development during the term of appointment
- Attend weekly staff meetings to discuss resident and building concerns, current campus information, staff issues and concerns, and programming initiatives once new students arrive
- Attend weekly/biweekly individual one-on-one meetings with your CRD to discuss support, student concerns, issues affecting your floor/building, job performance, and any personal concerns that you or your CRD would like to address

Orientation
FebYCs assist with MiddView events in August and February. FebYCs will:

- Assist with move-in
- Assist with first-year orientation as required
- Attend formal College events such as Convocation
- Work with Commons Heads and assist students in first-year registration and the honor code presentation

Working Relationships
Throughout the academic year, FebYCs will work with the Commons team and the staff to understand and support each other, provide each other with feedback, and work together to establish a positive atmosphere in the Commons and buildings.
