Japanese School
Spring 2015

Dear Japanese School Student:

We are pleased you have enrolled and will join us this summer for the 2015 session of Japanese School. On behalf of the Director, Kazumi Hatasa, and the Japanese School faculty and staff, I am delighted to welcome you to this year’s 8-week session of Japanese School at Middlebury College. The exceptional team of instructors chosen by Professor Hatasa will do their utmost to provide all students with a stimulating and productive immersion in oral and written Japanese. We are confident that the intensive studies in our summer language program will prove to be personally and academically rewarding.

On the Accepted Student site you will find information that should be carefully reviewed before you arrive on campus for the summer. Please pay careful attention to the welcome letter from the Dean of Language Schools, the Japanese School specific information as well as the general information.

Neither the Japanese School nor Middlebury College will be able to provide you with housing should you arrive earlier than Friday, June 19th. If you arrive prior to Friday, June 19th, you will need to find accommodations on your own.

All of us at Middlebury College Language Schools have been working hard to make your arrival and first days go as smoothly as possible, but if you have questions before you leave for Vermont, please don’t hesitate to call or email me. I hope this information proves to be useful in planning for your summer and I look forward to welcoming you to the Japanese School in June.

Sincerely,
Wendy Butler
