

MIIS James Martin Center for Nonproliferation Studies
1400 K Street, Washington, D.C.

The CNS offices moved to newly renovated headquarters on the 11th floor of 1400 K Street in September 2013. Previously, the Center occupied a smaller suite of offices on the 4th floor of the same building.

Situated in the center of downtown Washington, D.C., the office provides contemporary spaces for faculty lectures, alumni gatherings, academic course offerings, student recruiting events and several workstations for drop-in use by the Middlebury community.

With videoconferencing capabilities, the office can connect faculty, students and administrators at any of Middlebury's schools and programs with leading experts and policy makers. The office hosts regional alumni events as well as appearances and talks by faculty and alumni.

Project Completed:	September 2013
Total Square Footage:	6,400 sf
Project Cost:	$575,000
Project Manager:	Tom McGinn
Architect:	OTJ Architects, Washington, D.C.
General Contractor:	HITT Contractors, Washington, D.C.