Dear Incoming Middlebury Students,

We are looking forward to your arrival at Middlebury in September. Middlebury College is committed to the health and safety of its students and to building a supportive, respectful community. To begin this process, we are utilizing Campus Clarity’s Think About It and a course from United Educators to provide pre-matriculation education and resources to all new students.

The required online courses provide you with a foundation of knowledge, language, and tools that we will use to continue conversations about these important issues during orientation and throughout the rest of your Middlebury career. Course content includes, but is not limited to, alcohol, drugs, relationships, sexual violence, bystander intervention, and harassment. We focus on these topics because both national and local data suggest that they are areas of heightened risk for new students on campus and because national and local law dictates that this information is provided to all new members of our campus community.

To get started, please visit go/hwcourses, or use the link provided to you in your welcome invitation.

Many of you have already had some critical conversations on these topics, while others may be exploring them for the first time. Regardless of prior trainings or coursework, Middlebury requires all students to complete the two identified courses.
Please be aware that the courses can take up to three hours to complete; two and a half hours for Think About It, and 30 minutes for Show Some Respect. Both courses must be completed by September 4, 2016. If you are an international student with limited access to the Internet you will be required to complete the courses shortly after arriving on campus.

If you need technical support for Think About It please email admin@campusclarity.com, call 1.800.652.9546, or click on the “Questions” link at the bottom of any course page. If you need technical support for Show Some Respect please email uehelpdesk@perceptis.com, call 301.830.4587, or utilize the live chat function in the course.

We hope that your time remaining before arrival is restful, and we look forward to continuing this conversation with you soon.

Sincerely,

Baishakhi Taylor
