 Harvest Festival – Mahaney Arts Center Plaza **
Celebrate Homecoming with Midd students new and old as we enjoy a selection of local craft beer and autumnal fare. We’ll be celebrating with music, pumpkin carving, apple cider, fall pies, a beer garden, and more, all starting at 3:30pm behind the Mahaney Arts Center.

 Continuity of Change – 5 – 6pm - Kirk Alumni Center **
Join us for a reception to the mark the opening of the student-curated exhibition, Continuity of Change: Living, Learning and Standing together at Middlebury College. For the exhibition practicum of the 2018 MuseumWorks internship program, six Middlebury students mined the College Archives to understand how the student body has evolved from the 1800s until today. Featuring historical and contemporary photographs and documents, interpretive texts, and original artwork created for the exhibition by acclaimed mural artist Will Kasso Condry, this exhibition examines how Middlebury students have consistently worked to improve our campus community. Hors-d’œuvres, wine, and beer will be served. Remarks from the artist and student curators at 5:30 PM.

 Harsh Armadillo Live in Concert – 8 – 10pm – McCullough Lawn **
Harsh Armadillo is high-octane New England Funk-Hop, a combination of funk and hip-hop roots with bass, drums, horns, and voices that hit like a vitamin for your soul. The gang hails from Boston's leafy hat; a little known mecca they like to call New Hampshire. They have no affiliation with the state of Texas and have never encountered a wild armadillo.
