Notes from ISSS

During winter term, student took classes in a wide variety of academic areas including the arts, humanities, languages, sciences and more. Students also had the opportunity to enjoy some engaging and fun workshops on topics such as bicycle maintenance, swing dance, sushi making and wilderness survival. Other students were off campus pursuing internships. This adventurous time has come to an end, but from what we’ve heard, our international students thoroughly enjoyed themselves!

Spring term has begun but the cold weather continues. During this snowy season students truly appreciate a home-cooked meal or a day trip to a nearby destination with their host family. See our Upcoming Local Events section for ideas.

On February 5, the new international students arrived for our Early Arrival Program for February students (“Febs”). This year our students are from Austria, Bangladesh, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Haiti, Hong Kong, Hungary, Jamaica, Thailand and the United Kingdom. We are excited to make their acquaintance and introduce them to our campus and the wonderful local community.

Thank you to those who have expressed an interest in hosting a student during our upcoming winter matching. If you or anyone you know is interested in hosting a student in the fall, please let us know at isss@middlebury.edu.
Reminders
Host Information Changes
Please keep us posted if you have any address, phone or email changes so we can keep our records up-to-date. Don’t miss out on important FIS program information!

Student Employment Restrictions
With very few exceptions, international students in the U.S. in F-1 student or J-1 Exchange Visitor visa status (which describes most of Middlebury’s international students) are not allowed to work off-campus during the academic year. To accept off-campus employment related to their major during vacation periods, international students in F-1 status would need to make a special application (3–4 month application procedure that currently costs $410). Unfortunately, this means that house sitting, babysitting, pet sitting, etc. for pay are not options for most international students. Internships during the summer are possible, but require advance planning. ISSS offers workshops to inform students of the employment authorization application process. More information can be found on the ISSS website here. Please encourage your student to attend these important sessions. It is helpful for students to attend a session early on so they are aware of the process and the steps involved well in advance of the opportunity they seek.

Important Dates
Winter Carnival
Our 96th Annual Winter Carnival, the oldest student-run Winter Carnival in the nation, kicks off with fireworks on Thursday evening, February 14 and continues until Sunday, February 17 with a wide variety of activities. As part of the special weekend, students have the day off from classes on Friday, February 15 to participate in Carnival activities. Come join us! http://www.middlebury.edu/student-life/annual-events/winter-carnival

Spring Break
The break will begin after the last class on Friday, March 22 and classes will resume on the morning of Monday, April 1. Some students may go away during spring break, traveling with friends or visiting their families. Others may stay on campus so this may be another great time to make plans with your student.

Spring Student Symposium
Friday, April 12, 2019, McCardell Bicentennial Hall and other locations on campus
The 2019 Spring Student Symposium highlights the academic and creative endeavors of our students through oral presentations, performances, artwork and readings. This is a great opportunity for hosts to support their students and students, in general, and be inspired by the learning and research that’s being pursued. http://www.middlebury.edu/academics/resources/ctlr/students/uro/symposium
