More about Counseling

Sometimes it helps just knowing there is a safe place and person available to you so you can ask questions and talk about how you are experiencing college. Of course, there may also be important issues you bring with you from other life experiences. Professional counseling staff will be there when you need them.

We want your experience here to be one of connection and enjoyment that will result in your feeling successful on many levels at college. In the first few weeks after you arrive on campus, take time to meet with a counselor to talk about your experiences and how we can support you. Of course, we are also available throughout your time at Middlebury College.

Counselors can help with:

- Relationship issues, adjusting to a new living situation, homesickness, depression, anxiety, identity issues, previous trauma, grief and loss, sexuality, sleep problems, stress, worry, obsessions, eating disorders, anger, body image issues, suicidal thoughts, screenings for alcohol and drugs, referrals for psychiatric assessment.

Guidelines for Students with a Mental Health History:

These guidelines are offered to help students who either have had a past mental health concern or who currently are dealing with mental health challenges while preparing for the transition to college:

- Start planning early for a healthy transition to college. Prevention works.

The State of Vermont is experiencing a mental health provider crisis, which means that the resources for psychiatric support are limited, unlike larger states or urban areas.

- Meet with your current psychiatrist, medical doctor, and/or mental health professional to review medications and discuss anticipated stresses related to the transition to college life and leaving home.

- Develop relapse prevention strategies. Plan follow-up appointments during breaks from college.

We encourage students to continue working with their current psychiatrist, physician, or a mental health provider at home for continuity of care and for immediate access to support.

- Take your medication as prescribed. Do not self-medicate using alcohol, other drugs, or food.

- Develop a stress management plan, and get adequate sleep. Increased stress and lack of sleep often are factors in the recurrence or enhancement of a mental health concern.

- Have a plan to follow if symptoms of your condition begin to recur or intensify. Respond quickly rather than putting off action. This can help you feel better more quickly and minimize the possible negative impact of a relapse on academic and social activities.

- Contact Counseling at 802-443-5141 (or extension 5141 if you are on campus) and make an appointment with a counselor who will assist you in developing your action plan.

- If you need ongoing specialized treatment while at college, we encourage you to call us for referrals in advance. The closest specialized treatment might only be available in Burlington you may need to arrange transportation.
