

Preliminary List of Spring '21 Offerings

The following preliminary list of this spring's course offerings provides course names, section types, and anticipated modalities, organized by department and program. We also invite you to review a list of modality descriptions, available elsewhere on this web page, which will help you understand the course list. Please make use of these tips as you browse the list:

- Modalities that are available to all students, whether on-campus or remote, include “flexible online,” “scheduled online,” and “hyflex.”
- Modalities that require some physical presence include “blended” and “in-person.”
- For many courses, you'll want to find a lecture and a matching lab, drill, or discussion that meets your needs.
- For courses offered online through the Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey and the Middlebury Schools Abroad, check the “MIIS” and “MSAB” sections below. Many of these will also be cross-listed with college departments and programs.
