

Spanish Courses at Middlebury
Information for Advisors

Course Number	Course Content
0101 (offered every Fall) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• This course does NOT fulfill any distribution requirements.</li> <li>• Students must take a placement test to enroll in the course, even if they've never taken Spanish before. (This is department policy not open to discussion.)</li> <li>• Students who enroll in this course but have Spanish on their high school transcript will automatically be removed from the class.</li> </ul>	Beginning Spanish, Part 1. Introduction to Spanish language designed for true beginners (i.e., those who have never taken Spanish before).
0104 (offered every Fall and Spring) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• This course does NOT fulfill any distribution requirements.</li> </ul>	Beginning Spanish, Part 2. Students may advance to this class after taking SPAN 0101 or may be placed at this level upon completing the placement test.
0201 (offered every Fall and Spring) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Courses at the 0200-level and above fulfill the Foreign Language (LNG) distribution requirement.</li> </ul>	Intermediate Spanish, Part 1. Grammar review from present tense to basic subjunctive. Speaking and writing skills development. Students may advance to this class after taking Spanish 0104 or may be placed at this level upon completing the placement test.
0220 (offered every Fall and Spring)	Intermediate Spanish, Part 2. More advanced grammar, including different forms of subjunctive. More advanced speaking and writing skills development. Students may advance to this class after taking Spanish 0201 or may be placed at this level upon completing the placement test.
0250 (offered once every academic year) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• This course is open only to self-identified heritage speakers of Spanish who place into (or advance to) 0201 or 0220.</li> </ul>	Spanish-language course designed for Spanish heritage speakers. Instructor approval required. After completion of this course, students advance to a 0300-level course.

0300-0399 (offered every Fall and Spring) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Students must take at least one course at this level during the semester immediately before they travel to study abroad.</li> <li>• Students must take at least two courses at this level to advance to the 0400-level courses.</li> <li>• These courses are not open to seniors without special permission from the instructor.</li> </ul>	Courses exploring disciplines in cultural studies (literature, film, etc.) or linguistics (phonetics, sociolinguistics, syntax, etc.). These courses are taught in Spanish and require/assess intermediate to advanced reading, writing, and speaking skills.
0400-0499 (offered every Fall and Spring) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• These courses are not open to first-year students.</li> <li>• Courses taken during Study Abroad and some advanced Summer Language School courses may count as 0400-level courses after approval from the department chair.</li> </ul>	Courses exploring disciplines in cultural studies (literature, film, etc.) or linguistics (phonetics, sociolinguistics, syntax, etc.). These courses are taught in Spanish and require/assess advanced reading, writing, and speaking skills.

Notes:

Please encourage students to take the Spanish placement test before arriving to campus. Please let students know that they may enroll in a Spanish course ONLY after taking the placement test. Their AP scores or other test scores are not taken into account. Banner will not allow them to register without a placement test score.

Many students, especially first-years, are insecure about their foreign-language speaking skills and want to start at a lower level than what their placement test indicates. Please reassure them that speaking skills (as well as all language skills) are practiced and developed in all Spanish courses and it makes no sense for students to waste time at a lower language level than the one at which they placed.

Please note that, unlike other languages on campus, the Spanish sequence does not require beginners to take a Winter Term language class.

Please encourage advisees to take language early in their studies at Middlebury. Because of the nature of language learning and language instruction, it will be very hard for students, especially those at the beginner and lower-intermediate level, to reach the necessary language proficiency to study abroad, or to major or minor in any program that requires a significant language component (e.g., Spanish, IGST, IP&E, etc.).

Language study at one of Middlebury's Summer Schools is an option for students who need to reach the necessary language proficiency faster. However, enrolling in the Summer School is separate from being enrolled at the College and is not included in the comprehensive fee Middlebury students pay. They will need to spend additional money to take Summer School courses.