A Note from ISSS

January Term brought opportunities for students to enjoy a wide variety of academic courses and engaging workshops such as An Immigrant's Journal, Activism: An Inside Job, Guitar 101, Intro to Hieroglyphics, Olde World Locksmithing, and Patchwork Feminism: A Community Quilt Project.

On February 3, we welcomed our new international February students (Febs). After an introduction to life at Middlebury, guided by the ISSS team and our fabulous Feb Mentors, they joined the rest of the Febs for Orientation. We are so happy our new students are finally here and wish them the best of luck as they begin their studies at Middlebury.

During this cold and snowy season students truly appreciate a home-cooked meal or a fun activity with their host family. Looking for ideas? Visit the Addison County Chamber of Commerce website at <https://www.addisoncounty.com/guide> . See our Local Events and Opportunities section for more suggestions.

If you or anyone you know is interested in hosting a student in the fall, please let us know at iss@middlebury.edu.

Important Dates and Reminders

Host Information Changes

Please email us if you have any address, phone, or email changes.

Winter Carnival

Middlebury College's annual Winter Carnival, the oldest student-run Winter Carnival in the nation, takes place on Friday, February 20 and Saturday, February 21. Come join us at the Snowbowl and Rikert Outdoor Center in Ripton, Vermont for athletic events and lots of fun!

FIS Story Corner

Are you a student or a host with a story or photo to share with us? Submit them at https://middlebury.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_bJWRPD11EHzb5yu.

Anastasiia received beautiful flowers from her hosts Susan and Virginia after the fall 2025 ISO Show.

Hosts Mika, Juniper, and pup, Cassini, shared some holiday cheer with their host students, Juraj and Tamaki.

Abhir shared this photo of himself with host, Margaret. “We had dinner at Atwater and decided to see if eating ice cream outside would make us feel warmer. It didn’t.” Abhir said. (LOL)

Hannah and Fumiko got into the holiday spirit with host student, Chisaki, and enjoyed some festive cookie making.

Thank you for supporting our international students.

Enjoy the rest of winter and keep in touch!

Best wishes,

The ISSS Team
