

Spanish Student Visa: Applying on Your Own

BLS is a processing agency that Spanish consulates across the U.S. use to outsource their student visa applications. The consulate will still process the visa, but they will not meet with you. When applying on your own for the Spanish student visa, you will need to go in person to the BLS office (not to the consulate). You will apply at BLS, and, in most cases, return to BLS to pick up your passport with visa stamp inside. A few offer a courier service for the return of the visa, which you may elect if your timeline allows.

Before scheduling your appointment, have the following things ready:

1. Your passport:

- It must be valid for at least one year after the start of your studies and at least three months after the end of your studies
- It must have at least two blank facing visa pages (the ones that say “visa” on them) and be in good condition.

If you need to apply for a new US passport, do so immediately:

<http://travel.state.gov/passport/> and consider paying for expedited processing.

2. Photo:

- A recent photo no larger than 200kb to populate your appointment letter. Any headshot will suffice for this step, but keep in mind you will need an official passport photo for the application appointment (and if you get a digital one on-line now, you can use it for both purposes).
- If your photo file size is too big, Google how to shrink it.

3. A credit card to pay for the appointment fee (currently ~$20) [visa fee is separate and comes later]

4. Call your doctor to find out how soon they could prepare the medical certificate (print the latest version from the downloads tab of your BLS office’s student visa requirements) for you, and you will need the original with original (wet) signature—they cannot email or fax it to you.

5. Call your school registrar to find out how long you will need to wait for the enrollment letter (if using the jurisdiction of your home school).

6. YEARLONG APPLICANTS ONLY: Apply for your FBI background check. It doesn’t take long if you get digital fingerprints, but the apostille can take upwards of two months. Do the math after you’ve gotten the results of your background check and sent those for the apostille to ensure you'll have the apostilled results back in time for your appointment before making one.

#4-6 above could be limiting factors in how quickly you can assemble your materials in time for an appointment, so do not schedule the appointment before knowing you can get those documents (originals will need to be mailed or picked up) before making your appointment. If you'll only be abroad for one semester, you do not need to get the background check nor the apostille.

Schedule your appointment

- Start with a regular appointment for a National, Student Visa (you will pay extra for “prime time” appointments, where available, and even when listed, aren’t usually available).
- Do not book your appointment earlier than July 19 (Madrid) or August 15, 2026 (Córdoba) for the spring 2027 program.
- You may not apply later than two months prior to the start of your program: Madrid students must apply before November 13 and Córdoba students must apply before December 1, 2026. In all cases, apply as soon as possible.

Book Your AppointmentReprint Appointment LetterCancel Appointment

To book your appointment, many of you will need the information below to complete the questionnaire (the BLS office then generates your student visa application form, pre-populated with your answers).

Complete the questionnaire (the on-line form is in a different order than this list—scroll for a screen shot of the on-line version of question 11 AND when it asks for your intended length of stay, it's 134 days)

1. Last name as it appears in your passport
2. Leave blank if your name has not changed since birth (married women use your maiden name, if different)
3. First, middle names as they appear in your passport
4. Date of birth: written two-digit day, two-digit month, four-digit year (ex. 15-03-1985)
5. Place of birth means city and state
6. Country of birth
7. Current nationality, then list your nationality at birth, if different, then list any other nationalities you hold
8. Gender—male or female as stated in your passport. There is currently no “X” marker on the visa application form, despite “X” markers in valid passports. If that doesn’t change and is your situation, inquire directly with your BLS office how to answer.
9. Marital Status
10. None of you are minors, leave blank
11. Unless you are a grad student who has been recently living in Spain, you do not have one—leave blank
12. Type of passport is “ordinary passport” (unless your parents are diplomats or you’re in the military, in which case, you might have a “diplomatic” or a “service” passport)
13. Your “travel document” is your passport and your passport number is the nine-digit number in the upper right corner of the ID page (of a US passport).
14. Date of issue (use same format as for date of birth throughout this form).
15. Valid until—give the expiration date.
16. Issued by: whatever country issued your passport
17. Use your home address, even if outside the consulate’s jurisdiction AND email address

18. US citizens should check “no.” Otherwise, check yes and list your current residency status and validity.
19. Current profession: “student.”
20. Principal purpose of journey: “studies.”
21. Date you plan to enter Spain. Use the actual date you plan to travel, even if you haven’t bought your ticket—it should be at least one day prior to the program start date, as stated in your acceptance letter.
22. Number of entries: “multiple” or “more than two”
23. Applicant’s address in Spain, including phone and email for the following questions:

Explanation of the Requirements

Your appointment letter: After scheduling, you'll receive your appointment letter—one page with your picture at the top. When you go to your appointment, it's the first thing they'll ask to see, so have it on the top of your stack.

Passport + [notarized] copy: Your passport must be valid at least one year after the start of your studies and at least three months after the end of your studies, have at least two blank facing visa pages (the ones that say “visa” on them), and be in good condition. You will need to leave your actual passport at the BLS office the entire time your visa is processing. You may not leave the country while they have your passport, so do not plan international travel during processing. [Talk to Nicole early about the possibility of applying for a second US passport if you must leave the country while the visa is processing.] Every consulate requires a photocopy of your passport as well. Be sure all edges of the passport are visible (center the passport face down where the 8 ½ x 11” paper would fit on a photocopier, put a blank sheet of paper on top, then ensure all four edges are visible). Some consulates require a notarized copy of the passport, so read closely or notarize it regardless to be sure.

National visa application form: Each applicant will complete all sections on-line and sign/date/place one printed copy of the application form in blue ink.

Recent color photograph: A recent (taken within six months—you may not use the second photo you received when you renewed your passport unless it has been less than six months since it was issued) passport-sized photo (on photo—do not try to print these yourself), in color, with a light (Boston requires WHITE) background, taken from the front, without dark glasses, reflections, toothy smiles, or clothing that hides the face. Write your name on the back of the photo and use a paperclip to affix to the application form unless otherwise instructed. Given the recent rejection of several photos, I recommend an on-line service such as this: <https://passport-photo.online>. They will send you the digital proof, which is handy for your appointment photo, and you can have the printed hard copy sent to you to affix to the application form.

Payment of the visa fee: US citizens must pay $160; other nationalities should consult the "Visa Fees" tab. Most BLS offices will accept a debit (not credit) card, but double check in the fees tab, as some require the consulate fee in the form of a money order (they will not accept a money order from the post office—must be from a bank or Western Union).

NOTARIZED COPY of proof of residence in your BLS office's jurisdiction. You must legally reside or go to school in the consulate's jurisdiction. As proof, different offices have different requirements, so check your own. Some will accept your state ID/driver's license, but others require a bill or credit card statement featuring your name and address. For some, notarized student ID card and a notarized letter of enrollment from the college are needed to show residency if using the BLS office with jurisdiction over your school. If using the enrollment letter, ask your registrar or dean (whoever prepares these at your school) for the letter in enough time to get the notarized original document from them, if required. If you both live and go to school in the consulate's jurisdiction, you may produce either type of document. Nicole will request enrollment letters for all Middlebury students, so ask her for yours if applying on your own. Boston BLS requires both the notarized enrollment letter and the notarized student ID and the notarization must be on the same page as the letter/ID (you cannot have a notary complete a second piece of paper and staple them together). This is true of all notarized documents for the Boston BLS office.

U.S. immigration status (not applicable for U.S. citizens): Notarized copy of your green card OR valid U.S. student visa and I-20, both notarized.

Certificate of admission issued in Spain by any authorized university or school: This verifies enrollment as a full-time student. (Nicole will provide this—she needs know which consulate you'll use and when your appointment is.)

Proof of the availability of financial means. Original and copy, to cover the expenses of stay and return to your country, and, where appropriate, those of your relatives. For the applicant's support, a minimum amount of $700 per month, to include 30 days prior to the start and 15 days after the program dates ($4,800 for one semester or $9,000 for the year). *$700 is the amount required in May 2026, so I'm advising you to show $800/mo.) in case they increase it, which is likely given the exchange rate trend. Please provide one of the following, in duplicate:

- Your own personal bank account statements showing at least $800 per month of stay ($4,600/$9,600). Transfer money into your account before the end of June if you want to avoid having to show a parent's information. You must be able to show an ending balance for the three months prior to your visa appointment, so it's not enough to transfer the money in the final month before the appointment. Two printed copies of every page from each of the three required months.

- Proof of financial aid or scholarship showing at least $800 per month of stay ($4,600/$9,600). Ask your financial aid office to prepare this letter for you, if applicable. Nicole will procure these for Middlebury students on financial aid sufficient to cover their living expenses in Spain and email those who qualify—these students do not need to provide any additional documentation. If you go to school elsewhere, be sure the template your financial aid office uses is in Spanish (English & Spanish is fine—but it cannot simply be in English).
- Proof of parental support for at least at least $800 per month of stay ($4,600/$9,600). If you cannot meet the requirement in one of the two ways above (easier), then you will need all four items here:
 - Your financially responsible (choose the one with the most bandwidth in their day to get these documents notarized) parent's passport copy (ID pages—the ones with photo and signature), notarized (If Boston, notarized on the same page). Include the original plus one photocopy.
 - That parent's (can be a joint account, so long as their name appears on the statement) bank statements (checking or savings, past three months, every page, nothing redacted except the account number—must show final four digits—these do not need to be notarized) showing an ending balance each month of the required amount. Two printed copies of each of the three months.
 - The applicant's (student's) ORIGINAL birth certificate. Include the original plus one photocopy.
 - Notarized letter from a parent assuming full financial responsibility. Use this template for letter from parent—use both the English and Spanish to avoid having to pay for an official translation:

Date

I [name of parent or guardian] hereby take responsibility for air tickets between the United States and Spain and for all monthly accommodation and living expenses of my child [full name of the child] during their stay in Spain, as well as any emergency that may arise during it.

Yo [nombre del padre o tutor] por la presente asumo la responsabilidad de los boletos aéreos entre los Estados Unidos y España y de todos los gastos mensuales de alojamiento y manutención de mi hijo/hija [nombre completo del niño] durante su estancia en España, así como cualquier urgencia que pueda surgir durante la misma.

Parent's signature

Notary signs (must be on the same page if Boston)

Original plus one photocopy.

You need all four of those things—many pieces of paper—and then a photocopy of each one of them.

Health Insurance: Nicole will purchase insurance for everyone studying in Spain and will send you the letter in advance of your appointment. West coast consulates have been questioning the letter, so if asked, please reiterate that it is full medical insurance, not travel insurance, that covers you in Spain and anywhere outside the US for 100% of costs, no waiting period, no deductible.

Medical Form: This is now required by every consulate for every student, so do not overlook it. Once you're looking at the student visa requirements on your consulate's BLS site, open the downloads tab to find the medical certificate (the disclaimer will also be here, where applicable, so print that while you're at it) and have it signed by a medical doctor (no other type of provider). Ask your doctor to complete ALL blanks, including your name in the English and Spanish sections, their information, and then the place the doctor is located in the "In" blank, as well as date at the bottom. This does not need to be notarized; provide the original (faxes/scans are not acceptable) and a copy.

I highly recommend getting digital fingerprints. While more expensive, the chance of them not being accepted (for smudging, etc.) are much lower and the processing time is much faster. The apostille takes so long to process that you need to save the time while you can, else you risk spending any money you might have saved on fingerprinting for an apostille service agency—though if you end up needing one of those, previous students have used this one: <https://www.sespanish.com/>.

Step 1: Start here to apply for the FBI background check (which they refer to as an Identity History Summary Check) on-line: <https://www.edo.cjis.gov/#/do-info> You start by inputting your email address and then you complete the request--be sure to select the option to send fingerprints digitally--and pay your fee ($18). Once you do, you'll receive a barcode by email.

Step 2: Call a US post office near you that offers digital fingerprinting services and book an appointment to get fingerprinted. Take with you a copy of the email you received from the FBI. Fees for digital fingerprinting vary, but should be ~$50 at a USPS location. The post office in Middlebury provides digital fingerprinting by appointment only—call 802.388.2681.

You can also get fingerprinted abroad, though I highly recommend spending the extra money and getting digital fingerprints, though they'll cost much more in Europe (~$200) than in the US (~$50). Usually you simply do not have the time to waste sending the physical card through the mail, and dealing with US customs when they inevitably get hung up.

Step 3: Receive the results of the FBI check by email in 2-4 business days. Be on the lookout for this email because you need to start the apostille process as soon as possible.

Step 4: Print the results of the FBI background check (all pages, even that first one that has very little information on it) and follow these instructions to apply for the apostille:

<https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/replace-certify-docs/authenticate-your-document/requesting-authentication-services.html>

Step 5: Contact a professional translation service (like www.rushtranslate.com) to get a certified translation of the background check itself. You do not need the translation to be notarized nor apostilled, and the apostille itself doesn't need to be translated (so you can be getting the translation and the apostille of the FBI background check results at the same time).

Those of you who have lived abroad in the past five years also need a background check from that country. To get a background check from Spain, start here:

<https://www.exteriores.gob.es/Embajadas/seul/ko/ServiciosConsulares/Paginas/Consular/Spanish-Criminal-Record-Checks.aspx>

Disclaimer form, signed: Be sure to print the disclaimer from your own BLS site, if available. It will be in the Downloads tab.

Appointment form: If your BLS office generates an appointment confirmation once you've scheduled your appointment, print one copy of that to take with you to your appointment as well.

Getting Your Passport Back After the Visa has been Issued

The longer you wait to apply, the longer the processing generally takes.

Each BLS office is different, but the general rule seems to be that you either pay them for "courier service" (they don't want your pre-paid envelope anymore—they want your money so they can return it to you using the same system for everyone) OR you pick it up yourself during their pick-up window. Very few will allow you to authorize a representative to pick it up for you.

IF your consulate allows you to send a representative to collect your passport (which most do not), you'll need a notarized letter grant them permission to do that on your behalf.

[Date]

To the BLS Spain Visa Office in [City]

I, [your name], grant permission to [person picking it up for you when it's ready] pick up my passport when my visa is ready.

[Leave space to sign your name, but wait to do that until you're getting it notarized]

Your typed name

[Space for the notary to notarize the document]

*I advise you to get two of these letters—leave one at the BLS office, but give the other copy to the person picking it up, just to be sure.*
