Dear Alumni,

On behalf of the Middlebury Alumni Association (MAA) board, welcome to your class Reunion! A Middlebury Reunion is a wonderful weekend full of reconnecting with classmates, sharing memories, exploring what is new (and what remains the same) on campus, and simply enjoying this beautiful place that is Middlebury.

It is also an opportunity to make new connections with alumni from other generations—you will find yourself surrounded by members of the Classes of 1947 through 2017. That is a lot of Middlebury experience!

Within this program, you'll find details of the many events planned for the weekend—including hikes, faculty talks, alumni achievement presentations, a presidential panel, and more.

On Saturday afternoon, we encourage you to join the parade of classes up to Middlebury Chapel for Convocation, where you will hear class memories from 75 years ago to today. It is truly memorable. Over the course of the weekend, I hope you will have a chance to reflect upon your Middlebury experience and celebrate the role the College has played in your life. Thanks for all you do to make Middlebury the great place it continues to be.

And, if you'd like to get more involved—conducting a prospective student interview, offering a summer internship to a Midd Kid, or becoming a mentor—please visit go.middlebury.edu/ways-to-engage.

Here's to walls of ivy for years to come,

Middlebury College Museum of Art Special Exhibits Contemporary to Classical: Highlights from the New Collection Handbook

Contemporary to Classical celebrates the rich diversity of Middlebury's art collection, which ranges from the contemporary to the antique and represents cultures in Asia, Africa, South America, North America, and Europe.

Into the Screen: Digital Art from teamLab

Into the Screen pairs historical Japanese prints and screens depicting water with a six-panel video installation that creates the illusion of being overcome by a turbulent sea. In conjunction with this summer's centennial celebrations of Middlebury's Bread Loaf School of English, this small exhibition gathers work from the museum, Special Collections, and private collections.

Permanent Collection Galleries

In addition, visit the Permanent Collection Galleries, which have recently been reinstalled along thematic lines to be more inclusive and accessible.

Middlebury College Special Collections Exhibit "That Splendid Forest": Bread Loaf and the Mountain Campus

Bread Loaf began as a 300-acre farm in Ripton and was transformed into a 30,000-acre wilderness by Joseph Battell. Regaining his health on that Ripton farm inspired a 50-year labor of love to preserve the wild lands and lifestyle that strengthened him and, he believed, would do the same for future generations. When Middlebury College inherited Battell's vast legacy in 1915, it was received, however, with skepticism: managing an inn, a farm, and a wilderness was well beyond Middlebury's mission and means. It was the success of the "experiment" of the English School at Bread Loaf Inn in 1920 that encouraged and eventually convinced trustees that Bread Loaf could define a unique academic experience and enhance the College's strong sense of place. The commitment to both is realized in the Bread Loaf mountain campus. On the occasion of its centennial, we celebrate the founding of the Bread Loaf School of English and its home, a place to connect, to imagine, and to learn.
