ANNOUNCEMENTS

You Can Go Home Again... No, Really, You Have To.

Saturday's departure schedule is posted by the Dining Room. If you have not yet made your reservation with Jessica's Vital Transit, be sure to call them right away at (802) 349-8833. They have a very tight schedule, so please contact them immediately to be sure you can be guaranteed a ride. Remember, all Bread Loafers must be off the mountain by noon! Please see the Front Desk if you need transportation to Middlebury.

Share a Ride

Bread Loafers willing to share a ride should leave their names on the carpooling sheet posted outside the Dining Room. Those looking for a ride will contact you.

Pick Up Books On Consignment

The Bookstore is not open Saturday. If you have books on consignment, please pick them up today by 4:00 p.m.

Return Your Library Books!

If you borrowed library books, please be sure to return them before 4:00 p.m. today.

Conference Feedback Forms

Please check your email for a conference feedback form. Take a few minutes before you leave the mountain to let us know about your experience at the conference. We go over feedback forms carefully to see how things went and consider changes for the future.

Tidy Up, Buttercup!

We invite you to join us in helping Facilities staff by tidying up our rooms before leaving on Saturday! Please gather the trash and recycling from your room and place it in the bigger bins located either in the hallway or on the building porch; for linens, please pull them from the bed and leave them in a pile on the bed. Thank you for your help and consideration!

Back to the Dance Floor!

Did you pack up your dancing shoes and disco pants already? No? Good! The Bread Loaf Staff invites you back to the Barn tonight from 9:00 to midnight for some Super Surprising and Mysterious Farewell Shenanigans (i.e. an excellent playlist). See you there, friends!

TEED'S CORNER A Bread Loaf Riddle III

First was "cookie" then was "bell,"
Here's the last one I shall tell —

I am ancient, old as man —
You hear me, but do you understand?

Some use me to complete a line,
Others think I'm not for modern time...

But I've been on all your tongues,
Sometimes perfect, sometimes far-flung.

The muse sometimes delivers me,
Or sometimes, like Newton's inspiring apple, I fall from a tree

Everyone loves to sing me in song,
Children celebrate me in throngs.

Read me a book! Sing me a poem!
With me you always have a home

What am I? Ha! You'll have to guess—
Safe travels my friends — I wish you the best

Don't Sleep On the Blue Parlor

Thank you to everyone who shook the Barn Tent last night with their beautiful readings! We have one more BP session and, alas, we've arrived at the end. Sob. Sniff. Hugs. High fives.

Join us in the Little Theater at 10:15 a.m. for the famous One Minute in Heaven reading, featuring 40 dazzling readers! Don't forget to add this event to your calendar for today. It's our last chance to bask in the light of the BP glow.

Contact Tobi Kassim or Danielle Harms with questions, parting words, or just to say hi.

OVERHEARD

"Are they going to tell me if this is going into the Crumb?"

"I remember those days like they were yesterday. The Thong Song days, those were some good days."

"It was one of the more hilarious spider attacks I've ever seen."

"Did you always wear glasses? Now I remember that you're smart."

"I made it to Treman without giving birth."

"Novels are for freaks."

Bears oh my!!

Not all bears are honey-obsessed marauders; some prefer literature on the mountain. Thanks Hanna Bartels & Marie Goyette
